

IRISH SEA MOSS+ The One of a Kind SUPERFOOD

92 LIFE-ENHANCING MINERALS

Irish Sea Moss is a robust seaweed that grows on rocks in tidal pools and is wild harvested from the northern Atlantic coast. Because it grows on rocks, it absorbs many of the minerals and key nutrients from the rocks themselves. This seaweed is loaded with life-enhancing nutrients. It contains vitamins A, C, E, K, B1, and B12.

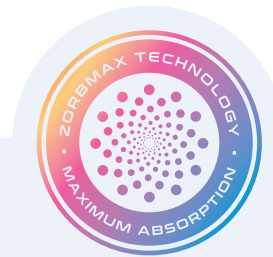

The human body is made up of 102 minerals and Irish Sea Moss contains 92 of them. It also provides a wealth of other important nutrients including; protein, beta-carotene, pectin, and sulphur.

One of the most important of these nutrients, taurine (the amino acid containing sulphur) is more abundant in sea moss than any other seaweed, and a nutrient that is commonly lacking in vegetarian and vegan diets. It is an excellent immune boosting food that can be invaluable in the recovery from debilitating illness.
